RWE (CM) Grand Pacaraima Gold Corp [PINKSHEETS: BITCF] Announces Appointment

Sydney - Sunday - February 02 (RWE) - Grand Pacaraima Gold Corp [PINKSHEETS: BITCF] announces the appointment of leading financial mathematician Dr Vyacheslav M Abramov, PHD to its advisory board.

TD

Dr Abramov holds a PHD in mathematics from Tel Aviv University with more than 30 years of unparalleled experience as a financial statistician, software engineer, algorithm and computer database developer.

In addition to being invited to speak at several international science and technology conferences and symposiums, he has also lectured at some of the top technological institutes around the world including Swinburne University of Technology in Australia, City University of Hong Kong, the University of Melbourne, Monash University in Australia and others on topics such as time series analysis, financial mathematics, differential equations and probability and statistics.

Dr Abramov is a published author and has written reports and reviews in many of international mathematical and statistical journals including a review on operations research and management science for the e-book "Queuing Networks: A fundamental approach.

Dr Abramov is highly skilled in predicting financial markets and crypto-currency fluctuations and shared his opinion in the Asia Pacific Financial Markets journal with a review on "Estimation and Prediction of a Non-constant Volatility.

He also served as an associate editor for the International Journal of Statistics and Probability and he was a member of the editorial board for the Chinese Journal of Mathematics' mathematical analysis section.

"We are thrilled and honored that Dr Abramov has agreed to join our advisory board as Chairman," the company said.

"His level of mathematical financial expertise is parallel to none and we are looking forward to a long and prosperous relationship.

He became involved in crypto-currency concepts and will apply his in-depth mathematical knowledge to take the company to the next level.

Dr Abramov will also identify the direction of crypto-currency development and provide advice on the acquisition of Bitcoin start-ups and other Bitcoin-related businesses.

The company is currently in negotiations with a number of other experts in the financial field on crypto-algorithm development to come on board as advisors.
