The Reckoning is the work of Brentwood couple John V. Soto and his wife Deidre Kitcher, former accountants who now operate their company Filmscope and previously released supernatural horror movies Crush and Needle that have performed well in the international DVD, video-on-demand and TV markets.

And locals will have a chance to see the M-rated flick as a P&C fundraiser for at Brentwood Primary School, where two of the producers' four children are students, at Hoyts Garden City on September 4.

Starring Jonathan Lapaglia, Luke Hemsworth (brother of Chris and Liam), Viva Blanca and Hanna Mangan Lawrence, the film follows two parallel stories of a detective's journey as he tries to hunt down two girls who have video footage of a murder.

Soto recently won the best director award for the film at the British Independent Film Festival and will be available for a Q&A session after the screening.

The event will include a range of fundraising initiatives to benefit the school, the most lucrative being an auction of extras roles in Filmscope's next movie, a joint Chinese/Australian film production.

A variety of other auctions and raffles will include Crown accommodation, a year's supply of beauty treatment from Heavens Beauty, a Sonos Play 3 from West Coast Hi Fi Cannington, a helicopter flight from Rotorvation, a $1500 voucher from Residential Garage Doors, $500 to spend at Terrazza Cafe and five hours of one-on-one coaching with ex-Olympic swim team coach Greg Hodge.

Funds raised will help with the cost of educational initiatives at the school like athletics and to purchase additional library resources. Of the 170 tickets available, 100 had already been sold by last week.
