Rockwood Holdings Inc. said May 28 that it has completed the acquisition of a 49% ownership interest in Talison Lithium Pty. Ltd. to create a joint venture with Chinese lithium company Sichuan Tianqi Lithium Industries Inc.

The company funded the US$475 million purchase with cash on hand, it said.

TD

Lithium producer Talison mines and processes the lithium-bearing mineral spodumene at its Greenbushes Lithium mine in Western Australia.

Talison produces two types of lithium concentrates, technical-grade, low-iron lithium concentrates used in manufacturing and a high-yielding chemical-grade lithium concentrates used to produce lithium chemicals which are then used to manufacture lithium-ion batteries.

Rockwood noted that the Greenbushes operation currently has an estimated 40-year mine life.
